Hello and welcome to another appetising feast of arts and entertainment events for you to enjoy this spring!

As we settle into life in our new spaces, we continue to develop our customer experience at our new home at the Corn Exchange in Haddington and have been very encouraged by your feedback - so thank you very much for sharing this with us. For this spring and summer, we have curated an exciting programme of dance, music, talks, comedy, film and children's theatre. There's lots on offer whatever your taste - from tributes to music legends such as MacFloyd and The Simon & Garfunkel Experience, to comedy with Mhairi Black and Stuart Mitchell.

We are delighted to be partnering with the Haddstock team to curate a series of music events across the next year, kicking off in June with the beautiful indie-folk pop of Rachel Sermanni supported by Wayward Jane and their modern interpretation of American folk and old-time traditions. Opening the evening will be one of our great local youth bands, selected from ELJam's Battle of the Bands event taking place on 25 May. Keep an eye out for more events through the year!

Live theatre returns to Musselburgh's Loretto Theatre this May, with Born In The USA, a thought-provoking piece of political theatre, written and performed by Richard Vergette which attracted rave reviews at Edinburgh Festival Fringe.

You can also enjoy the best of the National Theatre Live on our big screen at Loretto Theatre with Tennessee Williams' A Streetcar Named Desire, alongside our regular new release Midweek Movies.

Our home at Northesk Church provides a beautiful acoustic for folk, world and classical music and our highlights this season include The Bridge, Cuba's internationally acclaimed guitar duo, Ahmed Dickinson and Eduardo Martin, and celebrated folk artist Siobhan Miller. Enjoying these artists in Northesk's intimate setting is not to be missed!

Our Bite-Sized Concerts at Lunchtime series continues to run monthly at Northesk Church, offering a daytime treat of easy to enjoy classical music as well as the option of a light lunch beforehand.

Please leaf through our Guide to find out more and do stay up to date as new shows go on sale, by signing up for our ebulletin at www.thebrunton.co.uk.

Born In The USA

Michigan. Present day. Ex-Ford factory worker Jimmy Vandenburg works alone in his garage servicing the classic American cars of his youth, trying to get by in the economic wasteland of the rust belt.

A decorated Vietnam war veteran, Jimmy feels his service for his country was ignored, so Trump's call to 'Make America Great Again' appeals to his disillusionment. But his newfound politics drive a wedge between him and his wife. Then a chance visit by the son of a marine comrade killed in the war makes him doubt his convictions and confront his trauma.

This highly praised, moving, and often humorous solo play bravely challenges assumptions about what drives populist politics to show how they can seduce the disillusioned and the disaffected.

Recommended for ages 14 plus, strong language and themes of death in warfare.

TCHAIKOVSKY'S TRIO

Lark Piano Trio Piano

There is a strong argument that Tchaikovsky wrote the best tunes of the 19th Century, just think of The Nutcracker and the 'Pathétique' Symphony. His chamber music is also suffused with the same richness and his piano trio offers fifty minutes of sheer bliss with rich sweeping themes. The Lark Piano Trio return after their hugely successful Brunton debut in 2023.

GREAT MUSIC BY BRAHMS & BACH

Amiri Harewood Piano

Shostakovich: Prelude and fugue in A Major
Bach: Partita No.5 in G

Brahms's great Opus 5 piano sonata is suffused with a free romantic spirit. It is combined with one of Bach's great partitas which are collections of dance movements of the day. Shostakovich paid homage to Bach in writing a set of preludes and fugues and thus the opening work of this programme sets the scene perfectly.

The pair first began playing together in 2014, when Dickinson invited Martin to perform at London's Bolivar Hall. Rachel Sermanni

With support from Wayward Jane

Rachel Sermanni brims with dreamy indie-folk pop that speaks of the struggle and desire to flow, to love, to live, to feel. Sometimes, her songs speak of the rare moments of quiet, found amid this struggle and desire.

Rachel's recent fourth studio album, Dreamer Awake is an in-depth assortment of playful and candid vignettes, peeping into life. She seeks to be honest with herself and her environment. It is a call to arms of sorts, to wake up and dream the future, to dismiss the external for a minute and tend to the inner landscape of heart and mind.

SAT 7 JUN 7.30PM / £24 (£20)

Wayward Jane's music is a modern interpretation of American folk and Old Time traditions, blending roots music with fresh arrangements and original songs.

There will be an additional support band from the East Lothian secondary schools, Battle of the Bands event.

Solène Weinachte

After All

After All is a show about death. It is a celebration of our vulnerable and courageous existence using dance, theatre, storytelling and comedy to ask: how do we deal with the end?

By exploring various funeral rites - ones we have, ones we have lost, and those yet to be invented - choreographer Solène Weinachter confronts our transition between worlds head-on.

After All is a hopeful attempt to conjure a better sort of space for us to be with loss and collectively contemplate the finite nature of our lives.

Mhairi Black: Politics Isn't For Me

Ex-MP Mhairi Black embraces her trademark dark sense of humour to reflect on her time in Westminster, providing a first-hand, ruthlessly honest look at 21st century politics.

Mhairi became the youngest person ever elected to the House of Commons at the age of 20 and went on to make waves both in the SNP and on the wider political scene. Following on from a sold out run at Edinburgh Festival Fringe, Politics Isn't For Me promises a behind the scenes look from someone who spent almost a decade at the heartbeat of UK politics.
